Nasty women, unite—and read this compendium of fascinating quotations about powerful women through history.

“My passions were all gathered together like fingers that made a fist. Drive is considered aggression today. I knew it then as purpose.” —Bette Davis

When Donald Trump referred to Hillary Clinton as “such a nasty woman” during the last presidential debate in 2016, women everywhere felt a jolt of recognition—whatever their politics or feelings about Clinton. In response, they promptly turned his insult into an empowering slogan. This book celebrates the now-ironic phrase with a collection of quotations by and about strong women, both critical and positive. The words come from figures in ancient history like Cleopatra; founding mothers like Mary Wollstonecraft and Elizabeth Cady Stanton; feminist icons such as Gloria Steinem and Betty Friedan; politicians and government leaders; groundbreakers in arts and culture; celebrities; and the mothers, daughters, and sisters at home.

Emma says

A lot of good quotes but my favorite has to be:

"Lock up your libraries if you like; but there is no gate, no lock, no bolt that you can set upon the freedom of my mind." -Virginia Woolf

Amanda Nagel says

A fun read! It's all quotes so it goes fast.

Brooklyn Tayla says

I received a copy of this book from Harriet McInerney at NewSouth Books in exchange for an honest review, this does not impact my thoughts on the book!

however, I really loved this! There were quotes from some of my favourite women, including: Audrey Hepburn, Agatha Christie, JK Rowling and more: so many of these quotes inspired me, uplifted me, and all round moved me! Even though the title directs the book towards women, I think there's something in it for everyone; and often, the quotes could apply to all!
