Bearing It Zenina Masters

A bear with an ultimatum meets an eagle ready to nest. Let the fur and feathers fly.

After her cousin's success, Fred wants to meet her own match and live happily ever after. A trip to the Crossroads shows her some options, but she is drawn to the man with the golden gaze.

Hektor is an eagle whose solo days are wearing on him. He wants a mate, and if it is of another species, so be it. He will earn his match, even if she breaks bones in the process.

Join a bear and an eagle as they struggle with the practicalities of being incompatible as animals but inseparable everywhere else.

Loved it

Loved Fred and Hector. Fred is Buzz's cousin, seeing how happy he and Ezzy are she decides to take her chance at the Crossroads. Hector is an eagle shifter who is ready for a mate and family. Fred and Hector meet at the B&b, then at the bar., while their animals know they are mated their human partners take a little longer.

A fun, fast paced and steamy story.

Addicted to this series, I've now gone back to find some of the earlier ones to see how they are. They are just as good as the later books. Ms. Masters is consistent in delivering sweet romances between shifters. In this one, another unlikely pairing occurs. This time it is between a bear and an eagle.

With some of these earlier books, a reader learns about Crossroads and how this world came to be. The Crossroad rules aren't fully written yet. The people working at Crossroads aren't all there yet. In Bearing it, Fred is a very strong shifting bear. Predictably, she is a bee keeper who owns a large berry farm. Fred's occupation is what makes her sweet for me. I like how she provides a safe haven to shifters going through their first change.

Usually, in these sweet romances, the male and female meet, fall in love and mate. This one is a bit different as Fred accidentally hurts Hektor who isn't as brutally strong. He's an eagle more likely to soar in the air rather than lumbering through the forest. At first glance, these two aren't a match because even their connections with their families are different. Ms. Master still brings them together in a way that makes sense. It's a honey sweet story with a lovely pairing. Recommended for paranormal romance lovers who enjoy shifter soulmates.

Ezzy and Buzz make appearances in this book since Fred is Buzz's cousin and like her cousin she ends up with a bird shifter. Hektor is an eagle shifter and Winifred "Fred" is a bear shifter. Another good story. :D

This was a really sweet story in a series I have really come to enjoy. The book blurb is a touch misleading as there is night quite as much friction between the lead characters as it implies.

Fred is a really nice character and the kind of independent gal Ms Masters has delivered throughout the series. She is looking for a mate but not trying to sacrifice who she is to make it happen. It is great to see her meet and interact with past characters from the series.

Hektor is bold but not overpowering. I really liked him and his whole approach.

The steam factor is higher in the end of the book than others in the series. I do love a good dessert scene! Yummy!

The story here was sweet but a touch bland. No real drama or outside problems to overcome. Just a simple sweet story of two mates finding each other.

Can not wait to see what is next for the Crossroads, so many possibilities!
