For 5,000 years, humanity believed it was alone. Now the others are about to reveal themselves...again.

A ruthless woman known only as Mother heads an ancient conspiracy. Using the transcendent brilliance of her genetically-enhanced children, Mother seeks the others. After generations of searching, success is only days away.

Near the epicenter of the 2004 Indian Ocean Earthquake is a mysterious underwater dome. It is thousands of years old, and it's active. As Mother initiates the final steps, an unwanted, inquisitive geologist arrives over the site.

A lonely Dr. Selene Khan has buried herself in work aboard an oceanic research vessel. Due to her exhaustive investigation, she has found an underwater anomaly off the coast of Sumatra, Indonesia. Now, Selene is about to risk her life by diving to the strange structure.

Covert operative Jack Elliot is plagued by personal tragedies. Because of his determination, he uncovers a thread involving an impossible 900 grams of antimatter. But a mole in American Intelligence sets up his team for ambush. Jack is the sole survivor. In a desperate effort to turn the tables on the enemy, he attacks his hunters and inadvertently rescues Dr. Selene Khan.

Together, Selene and Jack must summon the courage and extraordinary ability to unravel a global conspiracy while learning the truth about the others. They have to stop a Tesla Event that could destroy the planet or turn human evolution onto an alien path.

THE TESLA EVENT is a thrilling, page-turning adventure where hard science and the darkest of primordial mysteries collide.

Tasker O deGeneres says

An alternate explanation of global warming

I liked the constant action. Switching the viewpoint frequently was less welcomed. People who enjoy apocalyptic conspiracies will dig this.

Ginger Isaman says

Great read. Excellent plot.

I really enjoyed the story and the plot kept a swift pace the whole time.

I would like to see a continuation of the story.

AJ Nelson says

Enjoyable action SF with some pretty good characters. A bit on the pulp side of fiction, which doesn't have to be a bad thing, but I think the author needs to embrace it. He tried to get more literary with the ending, and it didn't fit in my opinion. Not that the ending was bad, more a little annoying... there's an epilogue, but it's not on the topic I expected and wanted.

Jesse Fort says

Fallen angels are aliens

Interesting book. Few mistakes better editing would have caught, but they were minimal. Nice mix of science, action, and a little bit of religion. There is enough of an opening to continue as a series, but the book stands on its own. Good read, worth the time.

H S Joshi says

Superb sci fi

This is a sci fi with emotions. One can relate to it. It is not about battles between interstellar civilizations but what two people go through on earth to stop an apocalypse.

Tony Durham says

Slow boring and just too fragmented to keep interest. Didn't finish this one. Disappointed.

Campbell, c says

Mother isn't kind.

Ancient technology turns into a battle for stopping the destruction of the earth. Tales of the past entwined with the mythical gods and their technology. Patterns of cataclysmic events from a different perspective. "Mother" wants to reopen portals to let the alien "fallen angels" back upon the earth. Agent Elliot and Selene combine forces with a disreputable man, a genetically enhanced canine, and French agent to stop the inevitable. Great read. Hope it becomes a series.

Richard M Uetz says

Roger John Jones says

Really?

Our heroine is challenged by people posing as military. She enters an ancient artifact. Her companion is killed defending her life. He tells her he is an agent of the US Government. She returns to her boat to find everyone murdered and the boat steaming away. She dies a 100 mile ocean swim while being searched for by her pursuers. What does she do upon reaching shore? Goes to Egypt to continue her research. Really? Is anyone that stupid?

I rarely put a book down. If it had not been on my Fire I would have thrown it overboard.

Bluecobras09 says

A strange hum in remote locations around the world. Agents from a secret American agency called D17 are dying in increasing numbers. A D17 investigation into a French company turns up 900 grams of anti-matter, a large man that is a mountain of muscle like never seen and a large dog like creature with an extremely large brain pan. All this leads to one D17 finding things that he does not believe is possible. But he finds out it is, and what is coming no one may survive.

Recommended read, would like to see a series made of this.
