The Sleepover Jen Malone

A kid-friendly spoof of The Hangover!

Though she's never done it before, twelve-year-old Meghan is determined to make it through lights-out at her best friend's sleepover. She's also ready to have The. Best. Night. Ever. and her friends Paige and Anna Marie are happy to bring on the fun. There will be miles of junk food, stacks of crazy-scary horror movies, and hours of karaoke smack-downs! Not even the last-minute addition of Anna Marie's socially awkward soon-to-be stepsister Veronica can dampen their spirits.

But nothing prepares them for the scene that greets them the next morning. The basement is a disaster, Meghan's left eyebrow has been shaved off and she somehow has the Class Bad Boy's hoodie, plus there's a slew of baby chicks in the bathtub! Worst of all, Anna Marie is missing.

Now the remaining girls have to piece together what happened the night before. There's just one teeny, tiny problem: None of them can remember anything past the two-bit act by the hypnotist Veronica hired as the party's entertainer.

Can they find Anna Marie and pull off the ultimate save-face . . . all before parent pick-up time? The clock is ticking, the clues are getting weirder and weirder, and only one thing is certain: last night got a whole lot zanier than games of Truth or Dare.

So much action Mysteries humor you can't find a better sleep over book than this ♥?♥?♥?♥?♥?♥?♥?♥?♥?

I'm warning you now. This book HURTS. Seriously, I laughed so much and for so long I wasn't sure what was aching more: my sides or my throat.

But I won't lie...

It was totally worth it. A little herbal tea and a heating pad later and I was good as new. And that's wonderful because I couldn't wait to start telling people about the pure LOLability of this book. How these girls get thrown into the most wild and totally weird after-party morning of their lives and have to retrace every step to put the pieces together, figure out how everything went wrong, and find their missing friend. The pace stays fantastically frenzied as they race against the clock making this book one incredibly fun page turner.

Albeit a painful one.

Every so often I read a book before it comes out, and I can't wait til it's released to the world so everyone else can read it, too! THE SLEEPOVER is one of those books. Meghan has no idea that her sleepover party will end in shaved eyebrows, baby chicks, and missing guests. Add in complicated family relationships, friendships, and tween crushes, and there's something here that everyone can relate to. The antics and adventures in this absolutely amusing middle grade novel will appeal to kids from ages 8-98.

Rebekah Snyder says

This book is entirely ridiculous but equally adorable. Definitely worth the read.

P.S. I <3 Veronica

Gail Nall says

This book is basically everything I ever wanted in a sleepover as a kid (well, minus the forgetting stuff part): baby chicks, outrageous pranks, a giant hedgehog, and of course, a cute boy. So funny and it'll keep you guessing, too!

It was really good and really funny!

Lori Goldstein says

This MG spin on The Hangover (hypnotist!) is super fun and creative. The characters are fully drawn, the writing is smart and full of great humor. I laughed out loud while reading many times. Themes of friendship are strong, and this is perfect for tween girls especially!

Jen Downey says

Intensely fun book alert for tweens and adults alike: Think alcohol-free M&M/hypnotism fueled tween version of The Hangover. Truly delightful, and I don't even especially lean towards contemporary stuff. Cover doesn't do clever slightly dark hilarious well-crafted story justice! Veronica was THE BEST!

Suzie says

4.5 absolutely adorable. Exactly like "the hangover" but through the eyes of a 13 year old girl. Brilliantly done!

Lizzy says

The Hangover for kids. Pretty funny.

3.5*

Abby Cooper says

Hilarious!

Sleepover hits the mark on what many young tweens enjoy most, girl drama! This story takes this up to the next level, it almost reads itself! Twelve-year-old Meghan goes to a sleepover with her two best friends, Paige and Anna Marie, the birthday girl. These three friends each have very different families. Meghan, the narrator of the story, is an only child with strict parents, she has never managed to survive a whole overnight away from them. Her "ladybug" cell phone comes with only two available phone numbers, her home phone number, and 911. Paige has siblings much older than herself, and is allowed to do whatever she wants. She hears lots of enlightening conversation from her college and high school siblings, as a result very little phases her. Anna Marie has a pesky little ten-year-old brother and is about to have a stepsister, when her father remarries. The soon to be stepsister's name is Veronica, she's homeschooled and the most fascinating character in the story, because of her completely original and unusual responses. Her comments are construed as awkward and embarrassing by the three friends. On Anna Marie's thirteenth birthday party, which all the girls predict will be EPIC, Veronica's gift arrives first. She gives Anna Marie and her friends a visit from Madame Mesmer, a hypnotist. Dressed as a gypsy, Madame Mesmer decorates the cellar with atmospheric scarves, and explains that she will hypnotize them. The girls eagerly agree, and she does. What happens next is a roller coaster ride of shocks, scares and surprises. Until almost the end, it is impossible to predict if the girls will come out of the party unscathed. Pure fun, adventure, and mystery, thrill seeking tweens will find this story impossible to put down.
