A Kiss Between Friends Erin Haft

Samantha Scott can tell her best friend Miles Wilson anything...except that she's falling in love with him. Samantha knows that Miles would never think of her as girlfriend material. So she keeps her love for him a secret. It's a lot easier--and safer--that way. Everything changes when Miles tells Samantha that he's in love--with China Henry, the most beautiful (and unattainable) girl at Jefferson High. But Miles can't get a date with China unless Samantha helps him. Can Samantha put her true feelings aside and go along with his scheme? Or will she finally spill her heart to Miles, and risk losing him forever?

Proper review coming soon!

This book is slated for a re-read as part of Shelf Love, my way of going back to my old shelf and re-reading books that I haven't done a proper review yet.

Thank you!

Man, this is such a dorky story, but I loved it as a kid. It's very formulaic, but cute.
