Lethal Lobster Is Book 3 In The Cruise Ship Christian Cozy Mysteries Series

BONUS: Recipe Included!

Assistant Cruise Director, Millie Sanders' day is off to a shockingly bad start when her boss “volunteers” her to be his Guinea pig for a stun gun self-defense class in front of her fellow shipmates. Loyal to a fault, she agrees but almost immediately regrets her decision.

Meanwhile, several crewmembers have become violently ill and possibly on the verge of death after eating food prepared from the galley kitchen, operated by her best friend, Annette Delacroix. It soon becomes clear that someone is out to sabotage her friend and may be willing to go as far as murder.

Millie dives in to the new mystery head first as she and her friend, Cat, try to salvage Annette's career and stop the saboteur before someone is murdered - or is it already too late?

Joy Gerbode says

I am really enjoying this series ... just simple mysteries, but I especially enjoy all the cruise ship references, as we love cruising ... makes me very anxious for our next trip. I also enjoy the characters and their relationships to one another ... and the bit of romance added ... along with the promise of the next book in the series.

Millie Sanders is back on the Siren of the Sea cruise ship. She is the Assistant Cruise Director. Millie is a trip!! She is always looking out for others even if she has to bend rules to resolve occurring situations. This trip involves food poisoning among the crew. Who is behind the crew getting ill??? It is up to Millie and her crew to find out before the illness is widespread. I enjoyed going behind the scenes aboard the cruise ship. The plot is unpredictable. The characters pose a variety of suspects. Scout the Captain's dog plays a part in the story. Lethal Lobster is the third book in The Cruise Ship Christian Cozy Mysteries Series

A very good book.

As someone who spent their life working in kitchen and in management positions this story is very believable. The ending was a surprise.

Babs says

Millie has reported to the guys to be a volunteer in the self-defense class. What she didn't know what she was going to be Andy's Guinea pig for the stun gun.

As the group gets done one of the crew members get sick and they are blaming Annette. She could lose her job over this. With her contract coming up and others on the ship have applied for her job, it is clear someone is out to get rid of Annette.

Millie and the girls get cracking on the case and this time it just might get them in trouble.

Another great read and recipe. The captain is moving in slowly on romance with Millie and Scout is the celebrity of the ship.

Tracy Drane says

Books are getting better, and in fact, I ordered the 2nd 3-pack containing books 4, 5, and 6. The characters are really getting fleshed out now and I am enjoying the developing relationships between them. This one was slightly predictable, but there was a twist I didn't expect.

Love these cozy mysteries!

Millie works as the Assistant Cruise Director on Siren of the Seas. As a former investigator, she's known for getting to the bottom of the occasional mysterious happenings in the ship. This time, the mystery begins when the ship's Assistant Captain becomes violently ill almost dieing. Because her friend Annette is head of the kitchen staff, Millie jumps in and starts investigating before her friend gets falsely fired for poisoning Captain Vitale. Will Millie be able to solve the mystery before another crewmember falls victim?!

Another great cozy mystery by Hope Callaghan! She tells a great story. The daily ship activities are never dull. The list of suspects always has you guessing. The Christian theme that's always present is a great reminder to not lose sight of God. If you are someone who enjoys cozy mysteries, and has a strong Christian based faith, definitely try these mysteries!!
