Once upon a time....

Abigail always expected to lead an average, ordinary life. But when her dreams come true and she is accepted to Poppy Seed Academy's prestigious finishing school, she soon learns that her destiny is anything but ordinary. Suddenly finding herself overwhelmed with feelings of fear and inadequacy, she will need the help of both a dashing, young soldier and a wise, mysterious teacher if she is to gather the courage required to become the person she needs to become.

An original fairy tale about one young woman who is willing to sacrifice everything- even the desire of her heart- to fulfill her destiny and save the kingdom she loves.

Length: about 86,000 words/ 300 pages
*Appropriate for readers of all ages who enjoy a clean, fun love story.

Stephani Austin says

I'm torn with what to rate this one. It wasn't what I expected, but that's not the author's fault. I was hoping for a stand alone book, not the beginning of a series. It was a nice read, but not compelling enough to make me find and read the rest of the series. It is an interesting concept though, just longer than I hoped.

Susan says

Just a little too early YA for my tastes, is all. Very sweet for a preteen.

Afton says

A novel by my cousin! I'm so proud of her!
