Fun series!

Derek Moreland says

Love Hina, are you a Paula Abdul song? Because it appears to me that you take two steps forward, and I take two steps back.

Kirsten Rodning says

To be honest, I think the Love Hina series is going downhill. This volume just wasn't as interesting as previous ones. I'm not sure why -- maybe it's the fact that the conflict (the strict study schedule and the dynamics between the main "couple") has been almost totally removed in this volume. Hopefully the next volume will be more engaging.

The immortal Keitaro breaks his leg, right out front of Tokyo U before he even starts. After this, when Keitaro is in the hospital, he finally tells Naru how he really feels about her. What will her response be? Does she love him back, or doesn't she?

On the other hand, Motoko's Onee-san comes to visit, letting Motoko know that she has to take over the family business. To try to get her out of it, Motoko throws out the idea that she is engaged with Keitaro? Madness is all in this volume!!

Meanwhile, Seta proposes to Haruka, and Keitaro and Naru interfere to try to get them together, only getting Haruka more pissed off. It also reveals that back in college, Seta and Haruka were an 'item.'

Amy Johnson says

Now Keitaro is a Tokyo U student, things seem to be on the up-and-up. That is, until he breaks his leg on the first day. More entertainment and frolics from the Hinata House gang.

Lucie Lacoste says

Keitaro trouvera t-il la place qu'il cherche auprès de l'élue de son cœur. 8 ans après ma première lecture de ce manga, j'adore toujours autant cette oeuvre de Ken Akamatsu

Annchan Maulana says

i watch the anime version :

it is about a boy name Urashima Keitaro who became girls's dorm caretaker, since he fails his ent-exams into Tokyo University for the 2nd time and officially an unemployed plus his parents kicked him out of the house

And the story begin ..

Maud says

I'm going back and forth on this manga so much. There are chapters I like and then there are moments I feel like everything is filler, it all lacks focus and I kind of want to give up on the manga. Also because of the sexualization of the younger girls, sigh... But I am committed to Keitarou+Naru at this point, so I'm reading on for now I guess...

Ken Akamatsu, Love Hina, vol. 9 (Tokyopop, 1999)

Everyone's gotten into Tokyo U, but Keitaro still can't think of anything but Naru. After an accident, he winds up in the hospital, and when she comes to see him, Keitaro blurts out that he loves her. He certainly doesn't get the reaction he expects. Meanwhile, Motoko's sister comes to take her back to run the family business. But there's a loophole-- she doesn't have to do so if she's engaged. Keitaro to the rescue, and more misadventures and wrong conclusions are sure to appear. Great stuff, as always. ****
