Kuranosuke sibuk urus ini-itu untuk brand "jellyfish"-nya, sementara Tsukimi mulai berubah.. dan Shuu kembali lagi. Penghuni Amamizukan? Ya.. masih sama, heboh nggak keruan, diskip pun nggak apa :p

Yue says

The runaway was a success. How couldn't it be? The models were Mayaya and Kurako XD

While Tsukimi is having her mental breakdowns because she is with Shuu, Kuranosuke is out there working for the brand. I can't blame Tsukimi for liking Shuu.. he is nice, a good brother (we get a glimpse of the past; the first time Shuu met little boy Kuranosuke). But, for the first time in a manga, I wish she could see how awesome Kuranosuke is (romantically I mean, because she is already aware he is awesome).

Mayaya will be the death of me. She is so funny! I love the translation of "yours truly".

Ben says

Very good, Jellyfish.

Anna says

Anyone else get ParaKiss vibes from the cover? Must be all those purples...

The crazy-train ride continues as the Jellyfish Fashion Show takes place at last. With all the expected drama to follow

...Kuranosuke even started seriously looking into wholesale dress-makers to make Jellyfish product Oh, and a very punch-in-the-feels flashback chapter. Because we needed it!

Diana says

JAJAJA! Hanamori-san es la estrella en este volumen -

Sookies says

Dans ce tome-ci les choses avancent à grands pas, on ne stagne plus comme on a pu le faire dans les deux précèdent tomes. Et notre jeune héroïne est de plus en plus touchante et attachante ! De moments de fous rires ont suivis aussi avec les autres Otaku que j'adore.

Chelsea says

I love the story line that this manga has gotten into. I cannot read it fast enough. It's a great manga!

Saoirse says

J'ai beaucoup aimé ce tome, une nouvelle intrigue se met en place et permet à l'histoire de ne pas tourner en rond.

Captmashpea says

it was good it was just very about fashion and building dresses.
