This time it's not Geronimo stilton, it's Geronimo stilton's ancestor! Even though he is also a little scardy mouse.

When Geronimo needed to find a cure for her grandmothers aches and pains they needed to go to a far away land.

So they started on their journey. They had to pass through a cave full of bats with long fangs, a valley of lava, they needed escape from the savor toothed tigers that wanted to eat them, and escape from the tiger gang.

How will they find the cure if they have to pass through all these terribal dangers how would they ever find the cure?
