The Matchmakers Janet Dailey

Every novel in this collection is your passport to a romantic tour of the United States through time-honored favorites by America's First Lady of romance fiction. Each of the fifty novels is set in a different state, researched by Janet and her husband, Bill. For the Daileys it was an odyssey of discovery. For you, it's the journey of a lifetime. Your tour of desire begins with this story set in Delaware.

His words were like a knife in her heart

Of all the romantic fools, Kathleen thought, she had to top the list. In her crazy old-fashioned thinking, she had believed Jordan Long would want to marry her. Instead, he wanted to set her up as his mistress.

Her eyes searched the beloved features of his face, scarcely believing the words he'd just spoken. Could she be satisfied with such a tenuous existence--willing to accept the crumbs of his attention, never sharing the joys and sorrows of everyday life?

"No." Kathleen was startled to discover she'd spoken aloud. "No," she repeated. "I don't want you to make love to me."

Carmen Nuland says

Predictable, but it was still a cute, fun read to see how the girls manipulated the couple.

JoAnne says

Quick read with a cute premise and even cuter daughters that interview a prospective nanny. A few chuckles and a few tears. Not a lot of meat but love is in abundance at least where Jordan's daughters are concerned. Happily ever after that had everyone cheering.

Jodi says

Cute little story. A little dated in the careers and view of nurses I think but otherwise I don't really think it seems 30+ years old

A Harlequin Romance from 1977 this is a really cute one with two young girls trying to get their Dad to find a new wife. They choose a new Nanny and get their father to approve her by fudging her age on her application. The dad, Jordan Long works out of the country and meets the new nanny at the airport. She is young and beautiful just the opposite of what he wanted in his house. He is very angry thinking Kathleen lied about her age but the girls convince him to let her stay for one month. The girls do every thing they can to help them fall in love but it does not work out the way they want. I read this one straight through without stopping. It was a lot of fun.

A light and pleasant read. The plot is not very unique but the author's style of writing is entertaining.

Maria says

Very cute story, there was no big drama, no crazy other women or men but just two mischievous girls to give this book four stars.
