When the Heart Turns Cold 3 Charlotte

The heat is turning up on Nala Jordan. She has to work hard to keep her sins covered up. As the lead profiler on the Philly serial-killer case, she's doing everything she can to keep the cops on the wrong path. Meanwhile, her husband, Kendrick Jordan, is moving on with his merry little life and planning an engagement with his new side chick, Crystal.

A visit with someone from Nala's past will help her put her recent transgressions into perspective. But will this person's identity cause the lid to be blown off the Lady Ice investigation, or will Nala remain free to rid the world of cheating hearts?

Judith A. blackmon says

WOW!!!

This is good can't wait. Is her mother coming home? Will she continue to kill? Will Kendrick stay with his woman? Or will Nayla do bodily harm them? So many questions? Can't wait for the next installment. Hope I won't have to wait too long!

Tawauna Parks says

Much better

I really liked this one better than the first two. It's my kind of story and I can relate to the way she feels after her scumbag husband. Cheats on her with a loser like Crystal.

Carolyn J. says

Another one bites the dust

The third installment was just as quirky as the first two. I can not wait to see what happens next. Wow!

---

Felicia Savage says

Cold hearted

This third installment was interesting it revealed and set the foundation of who she is. Couple of surprises but I loved every page on to the next one.

Q says

Dang! Exciting from start to finish

Pat Smith says

Do I want her to get away with murder?

Nala is playing a cat and mouse game with the police while assisting in the capture of a serial killer. My heart can barely stand it. Some unanswered questions, though. Who's this secret contact who arranged the meeting/calls with mother? Why isn't the skeptical police officer looking into Nala? Why would Nala be so frank in front of the guard? Still rather riveting but I was disappointed that the editing didn't live up to the standard of parts 1 and 2.

Meme says

Wow

So much going on with so many unanswered questions. Nala became a serial killer, her mother is not telling her everything about her past!

Shirley Mcqueen says

Well darn another good part

This part has so many unanswered question. but the author has done a good job writing this part bc it leaves me wondering it she's gonna kill Crystal or Kendrick or maybe both i'm really surprised tht she hasn't done anything to them yet but now i'm gonna read the final part to c how it all unfolds

Stephanie McLendon says

Cold love!

Nana is filled with soo much hate that consumption has started this frenzy of murder. Her parents finally tell her the secret if her dreams and now Nala is on a new challenge. Her life is rolling before her eyes as the Lieutenant tries to make a play and now a cop is murdered. Pam is worried for her friend and now Mommie Dominique is trying to save her daughter while she fights the demons she has. Kendrick and Crystal plan their wedding as Nala now decides to have a little fun with them. Nightmare serial killer Robert Ranstad request to see Nala before he is executed. He reads Nala and she leaves. Chase the cop is silently profiling Nala . Will the cat get the mouse?

Doretha Bradley says

Finally some juice....

Let me start with saying Mama Dominique is EVERYTHING! I loved her and want to know more about the brothel and how she's going to get out of sleeping with strangers for money she never sees. As for Kendrick, I hope he's really miserable with Crystal. The two of them deserve each other. I enjoy the angry, violent Nyla only when that aggression is truly righteous. I don't like cheaters but all of them didn't deserve their fates. I'm hoping the momentum from this book carries over to the next.

Finally a good read!

"When The Heart Turns Cold 3" by Charlotte Marshall-Murray

My Thoughts....

Well, from this last part 3 of 'When The Heat Turns Cold' we get a clearer picture of what had happened in Nala life of her biological parents. Nala "thought that maybe her mother was her hero or was she just another scorned woman who happened to have murdered her father?" Did she have more in common with her birth mother? What was even more strange in all that was going on Nala life she had been called in to help with this investigation from the police. What will she do about this? All I can say is that she really had them all fooled or did she? Well, as we find Nala "in the middle of a divorce, she was assisting the police in catching a killer[s] that was actually her, and she had met her biological mother, finding they had plenty in common. All I can say at this point to get these questions answered you will have to pick up part 3 of this read. So what is next as Nala goes on a visit to the prison and oh my goodness what will come of that visit with Robert? How did he know certain things about Nala? Well, we are left wondering 'what in the **** was he talking about?' I'm not sure this is the end of this story but if it is I am left with a lot of questions that need to be answered.

Oh my !!!!!!

Man! can't say enough about this series, this read is something else. I can't wait for the next part, You said that this was the final part, their is know way in hell you can leave your readers like this. This is my first read by this author. believe me I Will not read any more if this how she leaves me hanging without a great ending. Please get someone to edit your book better.
