Enlightened End Audrey Carlan

My world ended the day I received an eviction notice for Lotus House Yoga. Teaching yoga is all I've ever known. I've been doing tree pose since the age of two. The studio is my home, my legacy. My mother and her best friend left Lotus House to me so that I could carry on spreading goodness and light to everyone who enters our door. Now I'm faced with the very real possibility that it will all go up in smoke...unless I can convince Grant Winters—the most ridiculously handsome and arrogant businessman I've ever met—to save not only my business but all those around it.

When I stormed into Grant's office to beg and plead for a second chance at preserving what my family spent decades building, I had no idea how it would change my life.

A deal was made.

He'd visit the businesses he was planning to destroy and attend classes at Lotus House while I worked to change his mind. In exchange, I had to enter his business-first world of luxury, fast-talking men, and surgically enhanced women.

Turns out, I didn't fit in... Then again, neither did he.

In the end, we were both enlightened.

Enlightened End is the PERFECT end to this gorgeously sensual, sexual, and spiritual series! I'm the kind of person who loves the "cameos" from characters in previous books in the series, and Audrey Carlan did NOT let me down. It's so much fun to see the growth and differences in each of them.

I adored Luna. She's the kind of person everyone needs to have in their life. She's just so full of goodness, love, and light. She's not perfect, but she's amazing. And how much fun would it be to have a friend who looks and sounds like a fairy princess?

I enjoyed Grant very much. At first, he just made me smirk. Then the more time he spent with Luna and began to change how he does and views things, the more my enjoyment evolved into love. I love people who allow themselves to change. And the twist in this story? I feel it rounded Grant out. And his reactions brought tears to my eyes and made me love him even more.

It makes me sad that this is the end of the series. I love and adore the Lotus House family and will be constantly revisiting them, but part of me wants more. I can't help it, I'm greedy! Audrey, thank you for yet another beautiful story.

The perfect end to an amazingly unique series! Every installment is a 5 Star read!!

Let me start by saying this story totally surprised me with the direction it went, and I. Loved. It!

We get a taste of the chemistry between Luna and Grant almost immediately. Grant runs the company that plans to demolish the stretch of peaceful heaven our Lotus House crew has centered around. It would effect Luna's business (Lotus House) and home (above the bakery). Luna masterminds a plan to show up at his office unannounced and make him speak with her regarding the eviction notice she received. I didn't give Grant the benefit of the doubt, and immediately pegged him to be a jerk and use Luna from the get-go. To be 100% wrong about this was amazing, and his dad took the King A-hole award. They strike up a deal to change each others mind prior to the demolition, and the stakes are HIGH!

To quote Luna: "We don't fit" and outwardly that appeared to be the case. The novel had a lot of emotional twists and turns between Grants family drama, Luna's friend drama, Grant's tough business decisions. Ultimately, I wasn't sure these two could overcome everything or would work hard enough to make it happen. I kept waiting for the shoe to fall, (Read Grant's dad going crazy, etc) but once the Lotus crew began showing support and people like Honor stepped in to help I was hooked.

In the end, Audrey not only delivered a swoon worthy HEA for Luna and Grant, but we got to catch up with the rest of the Lotus House family. The best part is they are a family and you really understand that as this series concludes. I will definitely be revisiting this series again and again!

Enlightened End is the final book in the amazing Lotus House series . Luna and Grant give us a fabulous finale !

The business oriented CEO Grant always gets the deal done . When he runs into a bit of a barrier with the new development that he is attempting to push through he finds the tempting and lovely Luna on his radar. Grant sees an opportunity and he always gets what he wants.

Luna is a sweet caring woman that wants the best for her community her Yoga business and her family have a legacy in this lovely town. When a developer gets in her way she marches right into his office and gives him what for. She realizes that she has never met such an infuriating , arrogant sexy man in her life! The moment Grant lays eyes on Luna he decides that a deal may need to be made!!

Loved them!!!!

AC Book Blog (Anne Christine) says

What a bittersweet ending to a wonderful Lotus House series. I was introduced to Audrey from the first book Resisting Roots and I was hooked ever since.

Luna owns and teaches at Lotus House Yoga. She loves her job but her life is about to turn upside down when she receives an eviction notice. Grant, CEO extraordinaire is about to demolish the whole community of small businesses so he can build high-rise luxury apartments for billions in profit. Luna was not having it! She marched right into Grant's office demanding answers and luckily she struck a deal. Grant gave Luna a chance to show him why Lotus House and the whole community is worth saving. Luna takes him around and in exchange she has to go on dates with him... :) win win right?

I adore Luna – she is fierce but such a sweet, down to earth, girl-next-door. Grant is a total sex God, alpha, broody, boardroom ready. I guess opposites attract because the first-time Grant saw the spitfire Luna marching into his office, he was mesmerized. Grant could not keep his eyes or his hands off her. LOL Grant handsome and super swoony. He has a big heart and willing to fight for his woman, knowing he has to face his egotistical jerk of a father – true love and devotion. I also love the chemistry, sexual tension, funny banters, passionate and sweet moments between these two. Also, the plot on Grant's struggles with his past and how it affects his relationship was a nice addition to the whole story. The past characters were mentioned in this book so it was great catching up with them. Enlightened End is a gorgeous, heartwarming farewell to the whole series.

Sweet shiva 4.5 Stars!!!!

"She thinks I'm going to save her. How does she not see she's the one saving me?"

The author saved the best for last with Enlightened End. This is hands down my favorite book in the whole series. I am sad to see the Lotus House end. This last book was nothing like I expected but I couldn't imagine it ending any other way! Everything about this book was beautifully written. This is the first book I can honestly say I have not one single complaint about anything. The plot kept your interest, and the characters easily drew you in. I absolutely LOVE Grant and Luna. I was hooked on their story from the very first page. Their chemistry was completely off the charts. I don't think I have read characters that compliment each other quite like these two. They are literally the yin to the others yang, and I could not get enough. They will forever be my favorite Lotus House couple.

"Luna is light, energy, and kindness wrapped in a sinful body and a pure soul. Everything I could ever want and never hoped to find. But I have. In her."

Luna is one of those heroines you can't help but love. I was so excited for her story and she did NOT disappoint. She is feisty and passionate in everything she does. I couldn't get enough of her free spirit. The devotion her character has for her friends, Grant, even life is what makes me love her character most. Luna has a unwavering strength you can't help but envy.

"Being connected to Grant is the best feeling in the world. He's sunshine and warm winds. Dark chocolate drizzled over ice cream. Sunday mornings in bed. Wood-burning fireplaces and toasted marshmallows. He's everything I could ever need or want... and he's all mine."

Grant is hands down one of my favorite book boyfriends! He is the perfect contradiction and I loved every facet of his character. Grant will have you melting with his charm. While tugging at your heart with his vulnerability. His devotion to Luna definitely had me feeling the swoons. He may be one complex Alpha but he will make you love every single minute!

5 STARS

Well earned for a beautiful ending to a fantastic series. Enlightened Love is definitely one of those books that stick with you long after story ends.

I voluntarily read a advanced copy!

I opened this book with a mixture of happiness and sadness. The Lotus House series has been my favorite by Audrey Carlan so far, because of its genre-busting premise of introducing higher truths and mystical-based faith into the world of modern, sexy romance. IMHO, the results have been nothing less than brilliant. I've fallen in love with every new couple in the series, and knew I'd be a bit melancholy reading the last love story, between real estate tycoon Grant and yoga studio owner Luna.

Well, color me so completely wrong on the whole sadness thing. From start to finish, even through the angst parts of the conflict, I devoured this story with a gigantic grin on my face. This book could not have represented the series better, down to the endearing humor, the colorful secondary characters, and best of all, the enforcement that if we look deep enough in ourselves, we can find the power to overcome our fears and love in ways we never thought possible.

While I thought this was going to be the lesson that Luna taught Grant, it was a glorious surprise to see Luna push out of her own comfort zones because of her growing love for him, as well. Both characters were rounded out in beautiful ways, and did so during a story that wound in all of the characters from the previous books in the series, for a closer on the world that left me supremely satisfied, along with a heart full of immense feels for everyone. While it was really hard to know there won't be any more of the Lotus House books, this love story was one of the very best series conclusions I've ever read. Highly, HIGHLY recommended.

Dennis Romoaldo says

I don't know how to start talking about this book, because I don't want to say goodbye to this incredible series. The book captivates you in an incredible way that makes you devour every page! In it you see a woman who is determined to keep her business safe and in the other we see a guy who finds the love of his life and has a great abandon in his past.

Grant is a fucking hot guy who was abandoned by his mother and still struggles with his feelings about it, but as he passes the book he finds a person who gives a meaning and helps him to go through that moment and find his happy ending.

On the other hand we have Luna a wonderful, happy woman who is for whatever comes and goes to her friends, and she is also decided and owner of herself, that makes you be captivated by each chapter and then finds your true love and fight for what it thinks right.

The story made me cry, laugh, and thrill with each chapter. The minor characters were described so wonderfully, that made me cling to each one. And we get back virtually all the characters from the other books in the series that left an even better pinch!

I'm just saying that Audrey Carlan has raged again! This book is the last book in the Lotus House series, I thank you very much for the new journey that Audrey has provided us with this incredible family, we have learned many lessons with all the characters and that I will bring to life. And again, thank you Audrey.

Ana Rita says

What to expect from the queen of hot writing? I mean, she's amazing and I know it will be a masterpiece. I've had the pleasure to meet this stunning woman and it's a day I can't forget.

Audrey Carlan is the bomb. Her writing is super detailed, raw, full of feelings and emotions. Her words can wake up feelings that you might have lost. Just go for it.

Enlightened End is her latest release and it's the 7th book from the Lotus House series.

I've been following this series for a while now and I was amazed from the first chapter.

This new book explores the lives of Luna and Grant.

Luna's life always revolved around the Lotus House. The legacy her mother left for her to keep following her dreams and spread love and joy and peace. Now everything is at stake due to a ruthless business man.

Grant is used to think big and go higher. He's the CEO of the Winters group. He's a business man that will do everything in his power to succeed. And now he wants to close the Lotus House. But he wasn't expecting a feisty woman that will stop at nothing to save her "baby" safe again.

These two make an agreement that they will spend time in each other business.

Let me just say that when this book ended I was super sad and also happy.

Sad because this series is over and I wasn't prepared for it but I'm also so happy because this book was the perfect ending to a stunning series.

The plot is magnificent, super engaging, sweet and wild as well. But don't let the sweet part fool you because these two are insane.

They share a great chemistry but they are super stubborn.

I'm at a loss for words because how can I talk more about this book when my heart is so tight? It's a good thing not bad but I really wanted this series to keep going and going.

This book presented us with what really matters, love and they it's what's worth fighting for.

There were parts of the story that I laughed so hard but there were others that I wanted to slap someone.

Jesus... These two are something else.

I will miss this series and I'm super happy for the chance to read all 7 books.

Audrey what can I say? There is nothing new that I haven't said before but I will reinforce that you are a goddess. Your words got stuck on my mind and will be here for a while. Can't wait for more books from you. I voluntarily reviewed an Advance Reader Copy of this book.

Bellereader says

Grant and Luna are the ultimate personifications of peace, harmony, and love when they go head to head and fall helplessly under each other's spells. Luna's soul was crushed when not only she, but all her business neighbors, received notice that their lives as they had come to know them were over. Ever the light in life and convinced that just maybe she could make Winters Group see reason she gets herself in front of their CEO Grant Winters to plead their cases. When Luna asks for him to give her the 6 months to try and show him just what this community means to world, she wasn't expecting him to come back with such a enticing Faustian deal. Grant apparently is very taken with her and agrees to let her pitch the block, but only if she'll let him court her. Grant knew he wasn't going to be making any friends when he sent out eviction notices so they could pave paradise to put up come luxury apartments. When the fiery and ethereal Luna Marigold swoops into his office, he instantly knows that he wants to capture all her spirit and will agree to just about any terms to do so. As Luna shows him her world and he opens his mind and body to her, he cannot help but open his heart as well. As he falls deeper and deeper under her spell, he can't help but hope to find a way to make this a Win-Win-Win, preferably in such a way he can end up with the girl!

I got this book and could not put it down. I have reread it already.

Luna is the most down to earth person. Grant is a total businessman. They are the exact opposite and I guess you could say it works.

Once you start it you will not want to stop. You get the highs and the lows. You feel everything that they are each going through. It's a great book to end the series. Will miss them.

Dorothy Sobota says

Wow just Wow!!! What an amazing way to finish an amazing series. This book has all the feels and more. The love Luna and Grant who are complete opposites is so powerful that it literally jumps out at you from the pages. I really enjoyed this book, I laughed and I cried and cheered when Grant stood up to his Dad. The ended was amazing and a proper way to to end an amazing series. Thank you Audrey for writting such a feel good series, this series will go down as one of my all favorites.

Heather andrews says

I love that Luna could reduce Grant to a little speck of dirt when he's misbehaving, "ouch. That hurts. I swallow and straighten my spine. "I'm sorry." I can't remember the last time I apologized for anything. "I misspoke." Grant just doesn't have a care in the world, the man does try to be thoughtful though, "I park my Aston Martin at the curb, not giving a *  it's a loading zone. Luna gets front-door service. She deserves it." Luna can get Grant really fired up, "Cist on a cracker!" Grant bites out. "Da*n it, Luna. Nothing's going to take that visual away." He adjusts his crotch with one hand." I don't think Grant minds that his woman wears the pants in the relationship, "I have zero control over my woman. She owns my soul, and if she wants to buy... " I can't believe this series is over, this has to be my favorite series by Audrey, and this book blew this series out of the water, what a way to end.

Karen Aguilera says

Audrey Carlan knows how to create a world that makes you feel like you are right there living in it amongst the characters.

Luna, the owner and everyone's best friend, gets her own happily ever after but never sees it coming. She receives a letter along with all the other business owners on the street that they have 6 months to move out because the street is being demolished to make room for new high rises.

Grant is all business all the time. That is is the way he was raised by his father whom he can never seem to please.

Grant agrees to spend with Luna As the two spend more and more time together a love that neither of them was prepared for begins to develop but Grant has secrets in his past that he will need to work through before he can give Luna all that she deserves.

Find out in the stunning conclusion of this beautiful series.

Cathy Hunter says

Lotus House Book 7...This book has the feels. Luna Marigold and Grant Winters...OMG EXPLOSIVE!!! Grant's company wants to take over the street that has several businesses including Lotus House where Luna owns and teaches classes in. Luna is upset over the possibility of losing it all. Sooooo she seeks out Grant to give him a reason to keep it open....she shows him his other side...his heart opens. His life has not been full of hearts and flowers. His mother left him at the age of 5 without looking back and it gutted him...he finds out about 30 years later it was all based on a lie...Can Luna help him through all of this??? Can Lotus House be saved??? Can all the businesses be saved too??? Find out sooooon...plus we see all of our favorites too and BABIESSSSSSSSSSSSSSSSSS!!!!!!! Lots of Babbubbies!!!!

Kelly Kemmerly says

Turning the last few pages on the seventh Lotus House Book brought tears to my eyes. I felt like I was saying farewell to a group of childhood friends. Each one of them holds a special place in my world where only truth, love, and hope exist.

Enlightened End finally sheds light on the life of the lovely Luna Marigold. Luna confronts her nemesis, Grant Winters, and challenges him to spend some time at her Yoga Studio and in the neighborhood he plans to destroy. What neither of them realize is that fate or karma has another plan. Their journey is one you will never forget!

Audrey Carlan is a pure gem when it comes to writing about relationships that are real. She is able to drop the reader into a new dimension that attacks all the senses. The connections her characters have with one another sucks you in and adds you to the group. You are one of them, sharing in their joy, pain, excitement, passion, and struggle. I hated to say goodbye, but deep down I am comforted to know that the little community where the Lotus House Yoga Studio resides is always a book away. Namaste. Thank you Audrey Carlan!
