Great story for kids. Just enough 'eeewww' to get kids laughing. Love Hashbrown and his buddies. These books contain the perfect amount of humor for a kid. They will love the kids of Pordunce elementary school, and their adventures. (I love Hashbrown's interactions with 'Thumbs'- a girl who beat him at a marbles competition.) I hope there are more Hashbrown stories.

Hashbrown's still hilarious, even with the creepy factor! I read this book at the perfect time- right before Halloween! This is a great series for elementary school aged kids, too. My mom teaches fourth-grade and her class LOVES it!!

Hashbrown has done it again. He's gotten himself involved in strange events this time thanks to the blackmail of Twinkles the strange man who lives in the basement of Pordunce Elementary. With six stinkbombs set to go off if he doesn't rescue Twinkles pet hamsters, Hashbrown must discover what happened to the hamsters and why there seems to suddenly be a ghost running around the school scaring people. At the same time he must deal with losing his marble championship to a new girl and her strange little brother. Like the other books in the series this one is just as wacky and just as entertaining. This series has really started to grow on me now that I'm adjusting to the weirdness that is Pordunce Elementary. Hashbrown seems like a pretty normal kid with a few extra issues thrown in just for fun. ;) Recommended for those who enjoy wacky humor and adventure. These stories move along quickly and would make good reads for reluctant readers.

This series continues to be AMAZING!

The humor and adventures of this fun group of kids is wonderful!

I LOVE the discussions Questions at the back of each book....

One of the questions is:

Nathanial "Nugget" Nottingham was a character created by a real elementary school student named Kaitlyn Larkin. If you could create a character for the Hashbrown adventures, what would your character's name be and what would he or she look like? (You can leave a comment below of your character :)

Teresa says

this one was the best yet I think :)

Hashbrown is hilarious. I don't remember my elementary school days being nearly this fun. I'm sad the trilogy is over now. Maybe someday I'll get to read about more awesome adventures at Pordunce.
