Lei says

Final rating for the whole series: 2.5 stars

This is my first ever manhwa and good lord, this reads like your typical overdramatic cliche Korean drama. The main couple just can't get a damn break. I do like it and I must say the flow of the story was executed quite well. I love the ending.

(Coming from a manga reader, there's a little bit of adjustment reading from right to left. My eyes always tend to go and read the words on the left side first.)

Ella says

I just can't seem to understand their relationship (Jarte and Jay). They're definitely a cute couple and Jay is already suited for the Prince, but I can't seem to figure out why Jay is being hard on the poor guy. He loves her. She loves him. Sometimes, I wonder what she's been thinking.

Lauren says

I'm slightly disappointed by this manga. I guess that goes to show you not to go in reading something with certain expectations. I loved the drawings and the style but the storyline just got to me, and not in a good way.

Jay Jinn a rebellion girl, who loves art. And have complicated feelings for J. Max (tall debonair foreigner, who have a business in Korea)

A giddy romantic between these two became a sweet chemistry for a reader.

I read vol. 1-2 of this in one sitting, and now have to figure out where to get vol. 3 when it comes out (if it's not already out), as the copies I read live in a different city than I do. ^^ I liked this quite a bit, and may add it to my "buy" list.
