Manifest the Magic Dawn Blair

The second novel of the Sacred Knight series.

Prophecies told of a time when the gargaxes would return, Rivic's enchantment would activate, and Lilinar would fall. None said anything about a champion. But before this champion was declared a saint, Steigan was a boy. That's when the lies began.

Void of all memories, Steigan finds himself tangled in magic and plagued by nightmares of demons and fire. Unable to control the power rising within him, he is sent to train at the Temple. His birthmark establishes him as a descendant of Rivic, but since he can't prove his heritage without knowledge of his past, Steigan is stripped of his rank of Dominus and forbidden to wear his blue and gold armor. To most of those around him, he is a worthless outcast. But to Princess Keteria of Lilinar and Lord Ithanes of Dubinshire, Steigan is more than what he seems and they sense the strong magic within him. Others seek to twist Steigan's abilities for their own purposes.

Can he regain his title of Dominus? Will he be able to take control of his magic before it's too late?

Manifest the Magic is the second book in the Sacred Knight series.
(sequel to The Three Books -- Book 1 of the Sacred Knight series)

Hate to DNF this and put it aside, I loved the first book but this one I am just not feeling :( I think it's more me than the book... maybe I'll come back to it later on, but for now....

Don't be swayed by me just yet, if you are curious go ahead and try it:)
