Sold to my Professor Juliana Conners

I'm filthy rich and what I do to her will stay our dirty little secret. Right?

She's curvy and funny and beautiful, and, oh yeah, she's half my age.
But no one will ever know about us because I bought her innocence at a secret club.
I've gotten into trouble as a professor so this can't come out into the open.
I have to make sure I never see her again
so I don't fall for her like a fool.
Then I start teaching at my new college and who do I see in the second row but the girl who sold me her body and may have stolen my heart?

Sold to my Professor* is a standalone super steamy romance novella featuring an billionaire alpha male bad boy and the curvy virgin with whom he finds his happily ever after. It has no cheating and no cliffhangers.

From Reader Review Sold to my Professor for online ebook

Di says

Another quick steamy read by Juliana Conners and this time it's about the sheltered daughter, Sarah, of a pastor, who wants to leave her domineering family and be out on her own. She goes to the Exchange and gets bought by Adam, who later ends up being her professor.

A great steamy quick read with no drama between them which made it that much more enjoyable to read. I loved the fact that after being with Sarah, Adam only wanted her and finally gave in to his desires and that Sarah, even though she was sheltered was a mature woman who was smart and beautiful.

Melissa Ledet says

Wow Sarah and Adam are hot. Love how Sarah becomes a strong confident woman and how Adam falls hopelessly in love with her.

Favorite quote: Adam to Sarah ~ "You're the best thing that's ever happened to me. You sold me your body, but you stole my heart."

Man, I love Juliana's Sold books and this one is no different. Sarah is a preacher's daughter that wants out of her father's house so horribly bad that she decides to do something out there. So selling her self to make the money to get out of that house is what she decides to do. When the fates send her Adam she has no idea what the future will hold. Adam is sent to a smaller college due to his whoreish ways. He does so love to have sex with his students. So he goes to The Exchange to get rid of some of his tension when he finds Sarah. Neither expect to see each other again.

I love this book and devoured it. I would highly recommend this book. I voluntarily read an advance reader copy for my honest review.

Julianne Macneil says

I read this book as part of an arc program. I loved the Auction books and this one is another great one. This one is about Sarah, a preacher's daughter who was very sheltered and her father controlled everything in her life. Sarah was publically embarrassed when her father forced her to confess her sins of kissing a boy and having unpure thoughts in front of the entire church. One night when she was using her kindle, she came across an ad for the Exchange and learned men would bid on her for everything from having dinner with them. She thinks this could give her the money to finally leave her father's control and start to live the life she wants. Adam is a billionaire who teaches business at Harvard and when he gets caught being with a student, Harvard decides to suspend him and make him teach a semester at Hudson College, a small religious college where there are very strict rules. Before Adam is set to start teaching, he goes to the New York location of the Exchange and sees Sarah. Adam is so smitten with Sarah, he bids on her. This was the best of the auction book yet, I loved how Sarah was so willing to discover things even with her strict upbringing. I thought Adam was funny and they made a great pair. Adam knew things with Sarah were different and found a way to work things out, Great one

I just love the SOLD TO series from Juliana Connors. They have not disappointed me and neither did this one.

It is a short, quick and easy read. The story is about the preacher's daughter Sarah that wants to live her own life and not the one her father forces her to. Adam is a billionaire and teacher in business. He is a playboy and is told to take a semester in another school to cool a bit of.

He meets Sarah at a club and they bond. What they do not know is that they will meet again. No spoilers here.

I like this story very much. It takes a topic like religion and shakes it a bit. I find that the dual POV is great in this kind of stories because then you get to know both main characters' feelings and thoughts. But sometimes in this story the names are wrong in the title and in the middle of the chapters the main characters switch. But apart from that I can only recommend this book.

I received an ARC for the purpose of an honest review.

This is another Sold book and it's HOT! This story is about Sarah who is a pastor's daughter and lives under his strict rules. He takes everything to the tenth degree and Sarah is forced to take matters into her own hands. On what her hands have done, haha. Adam is an independently wealthy man who is forced to take a "break" from teaching at Harvard due to his way with his students. Sarah finds her way to The Exchange hoping to earn enough money for college and be away from her father's way of life. Adam enjoyed The Exchange in Boston and tries the one in NY and ends up making a scene with his bid. There is an instant need in Adam to have Sarah and can one night of amazing satisfaction be enough for him? Time will tell while he is teaching business at a small conservative college. Sarah has lived with her overprotective and overbearing parents for too long. Her strict father takes things a little too far with his profession and religion. One night she decides she has had enough and tries to sell herself to get a little money so that she can get away from her father. Adam is in trouble with Harvard after one too many encounters with his female students gets back to administration. When he gets sent to another college, he has to make a trip into Boston to find some female companionship. When he sees her at the Exchange Club, he is determined to make her his that night. At first she is only being offered for some drinks, but as the bids goes up, she is selling a whole lot more. That one night changed them both, but they thought it would never amount to anything more. When school starts, they both get the surprise of a lifetime. She is his new student. They are able to work through their continued attraction until he strikes a deal with her. This deal gives them the best of both worlds and just proves that love can be found anywhere. I could not put this book down when I got it, it gripped me from the very start with the story line and characters. I voluntarily read an Advanced Reader Copy of this book.

Suzanne Giorgione says

Another great book by Juliana Connors. Rachel was a 19 year old virgin who was controlled by her father, not allowed to do anything. He was very religious and had ridiculous expectations for his daughter. She longed to escape and go out on her own, but her parents would only pay for the Baptist college they wanted her to attend. Rachel comes across an ad for a job opening at the Exchange and sneaks away in hopes of being able to make enough money to finish school and live on her own. Adam is a professor at Harvard, basically just to occupy his time because he was filthy rich and had others to run his company. He liked women, maybe a little too much, and the school requested he take a break from Harvard and go teach for a semester at a small Baptist college in New York. He ended up visiting the exchange and saw Rachel. He had to have her and outbid everyone, paying a million for her company. These two have a very hot and sexy time in the private room, but Adam doesn't do relationships. For some reason he cannot get Rachel out of his mind and to his surprise, once classes start, he realizes she is one of his students. Now what do they do? Grab this book and find out what hot and crazy fun these two get into next. I voluntarily reviewed an ARC of this book.

Susan says

Juliana Connors has found another couple that meets through The Exchange. The Exchange has places in different parts of the United States where if you are pretty and intelligent, you can be auctioned off to a billionaire and make a lot of money, at the same time. The thing that I like about the Exchange, is that young women come on their own to participate. It is their choice to be there, and it is their choice what they are auctioning off. It can be anything from a simple out for coffee with him, or the whole shebang, or anything in between. This is where Sarah gets bought by Adam, who turns out to be her professor, but neither knows it at the time.

What we end up with, is a sizzling hot story. I voluntarily reviewed this advance copy, and I highly recommend it.

Another hot and steamy read by Juliana Conners. She always gives us the best of herself in her books. This book is fairly short, a bit dirty, written well and has great characters. Sarah is the daughter of a strict preacher in a small town which has strong religious beliefs. When he tries to force her to live her life the way he wants her to, she goes and rebels. She ends up meeting Adam but doesn't realize who he really is. What will happen when she finds the man her bought her happens to be her Business Class professor? What will her dad do when she defies him? You'll have to pick up the book because it is really worth that one-click to purchase. I voluntarily read an Advanced Reader's Copy of this book.

Candy says

Another fun & short story about The Exchange. A place where billionaire men buy young women for their companionship & much more. Juliana Conners has done another wonderful job of giving us a female lead who finds herself & shines out in the open. And a male lead, who can't help but to fall in love with her no matter is long standing wayward ways.

Sara Oxton says

Sold to my professor by Julianna Conners a fab four-star read. Once again this author has produced a great read, the Exchange is fast becoming a place I would like to try a cocktail in, I doubt I would get more than a fiver for myself so it wouldn't be worth it, but I can dream. Adam is a yummy bad boy, who I would have probably studied harder for if he was my professor, but mine were all old grey or bald so not quite the same. This is a great read, you can read in one sitting and the chemistry between the characters will set your ages alight.

Juliana has done it again, 5 awesome stars!!!

Sarah Grace is a sheltered preachers daughter, with lustful thoughts. Her father catches her messaging a boy she went on a group date with where she tells the boy she'd let him do anything he wanted to her. So he makes her get up in front of his congregation and repent her sins, totally embarrassing her. He confiscates her computer and she is only allowed to leave the house for school and church. He does allow her to have a Kindle Fire, until he catches her watching porn on it. Now he decides she can only leave the house for church and he wants her to repent again. She refuses and he said if she lives under his roof she will so do as he says. So she runs away and goes to The Exchange and ends up selling her virginity to Adam. She later finds out that Adam is a professor at the college she is attending. To find out what happens when they see each other again grab this book. Definitely recommend this book as a must read.
