I have not had a chance to read all the stories but I have read California Sunrise by Casey Dawes and based on this, I expect this to be an incredible set of stories to dive into.

California Sunrise: Sweet, honest, real ... this is a romance that puts you directly in Alicia and Raul's world. I have no knowledge of Hispanic cultures and demands so it was interesting to experience these issues through Alicia and Raul's eyes. Alicia is an eighteen year old single mother after trusting that "first love" in high school but she has been blessed with Luis, her adorable yet challenging son. Raul becomes Luis' pediatrician and he recognizes that Luis's challenges are related to Asperger's syndrome this creates a situation where Raul wants to help Alicia so they start to meet away from the doctor's office. This is a steady build for a relationship as each character deals with the forces in their daily lives while trying to find time for a relationship. It felt very real and honest to me. I also loved getting to understand the challenges both face being Hispanic in our American society.
