Rohini Didar says

My Love For Feluda Started when I was only 11. I read all the books multiple times but this year after a long pause of 4-5 years I started re-reading it again.

I am still in love with Feluda Series.

This book in particular is not my favorite. But the writing of Sir Satyajit Ray is always amazing to read.

Read the novel and then watched the movie. I see Sandip Ray made a small change in the movie where Feluda (Shobboschachi) alone went in disguise in Protul Bose's house in the movie while in the book Topsey also accompanied him in disguise. I am no director but was trying to think was it necessary for the purpose of cinematization?
