Are We Lost? A Raymond and Sheila Story Annie Fox , Eli Noyes (Illustrator)

Raymond and Sheila's peaceful day at the beach turns into a wild goose chase involving a flying teddy bear in distress, a disappearing ice cream truck, and a couple of sly boa constrictors. Is there such a thing as too much adventure? All they were trying to do was keep an eye on their "valuables" without losing sight of what's really important!

Are We Lost? is an adventure sure to appeal to every 4–8 yr old who has ever felt "old enough" to do something daring on their own. At the heart of this playfully illustrated tale of surprises and challenges is the unshakable love of a big sister for her little brother and the love of a shy little boy for his teddy bear. Like all books in the Raymond and Sheila series, this one includes a unique guide for parents to help their kids increase their language skills and social and emotional learning. Are We Lost? is now available on Kindle and very soon in Spanish.

I received this as a Goodreads Giveaway.

A great storybook for children with illustrations reminiscent of the works of Richard Scarry. Small children will love the simplistic story line, a little brother going off for food while the older sister is supposed to know where he is at all times. Her plan didn't work out, especially since she left their point of rendezvous! Once again, the little brother saves the day!

I look forward to reading the other books by Annie Fox.

A wonderful book about a couple of alligators at the beach. When one gets hungry, what will happen? Find out in this beach-tastic book. A must read for summer!
