Daelith says

32 pages into this and it just was not holding my attention. I see now that it the 3rd book in a series. Maybe that was part of the problem. Not enthused enough to look for the first book though.

The intriguing title of this book was my decision to buy it. I can't recall getting into it even a little bit. My thoughts were continuously elsewhere as I was having complications in a relationship. I will keep it for now and re-read it later. As well, it is apparent that there are two books before this one.
